The ARC Centre of Excellence for the History of Emotions (Europe 1100 - 1800) and the Centre for Medieval and Early Modern Law and Literature, University of St Andrews present:

EMOTIONS IN THE COURTROOM

Date: 3-4 May 2015
Location: University of St Andrews
Department of Medieval History, St John’s House
71 South Street, St Andrews
KY16 9QW, United Kingdom

FOCUS:
The recent surge of interest in the history of emotions has seen medievalists uncover a broad range of new source material recording the affective lives of Europeans in the Middle Ages. A parallel growth of interest in crime and judicial records from ecclesiastical and secular courts has identified these as excellent sources and made clear that the courtroom could be a locus for emotionally charged events. This 1.5 day interdisciplinary symposium brings together scholars of law, literature and history to examine the role that emotions played in legal conduct and procedure.

REGISTRATION
The symposium is free of charge but pre-booking is required before 25th April, 2015. For pre-booking and information, contact: kimberley.knight@sydney.edu.au

ALL WELCOME!

SPEAKERS:
Professor Stephen D. White (Emory University)
Professor William I. Miller (University of Michigan)
Professor Hans Jacob Orning (University of Oslo)
Dr Susanne Pohl-Zucker (Independent researcher)
Elizabeth Papp Kamali (University of Michigan)
Dr Merridee Bailey (The University of Adelaide)
Dr Ian Forrest (Oriel College, University of Oxford)
Dr Seb Coxon (University College, London)
Professor John Hudson (University of St Andrews)

For more information, including abstracts, visit www.historyofemotions.org.au/events